Subject Overview

This document shows the Program of Study for Religious Education as set out in the agreed Lancashire syllables and highlights when religion and theme should be taught. This is the starting point for the planning of a sequence of learning in each area. The placement of each objective has been carefully planned to allow for the clear progression of knowledge and skills.

This document should be used alongside the individual subject substantive and disciplinary knowledge progression maps for each year group. This is not a working document and should not be changed or altered without discussion with the subject lead.
